TIPS & TECHNIQUES

EASY MOWER CLEANUP

To clean off the grass that builds up around the blade of your mower, flush it with water. Attach a sprinkler ring to a hose and slide the mower over it. Turn the water on and wash the clippings away.

ROCK SOLID POST ANCHOR

Gate posts, flagpoles, clotheslines poles and handrail posts need a firm footing. You can do this without a ton of concrete. After digging a hole for the concrete footing, drive down three or four lengths of old pipe or angle iron, each around 2 to 3 feet long, at an angle to the surrounding soil. Let their ends protrude into the hole so they will become embedded in the concrete when you pour it. This added bite will prevent the entire footing from shifting under stress.

Another way to reinforce a post in its footing is to drive nails into the post before you set it in place. The nails provide a gripping surface for the concrete when it is poured into the hole. For best results, use 10d common nails. Stagger the nails on each side and down the post, driving them about halfway into the wood.

MORE USES FOR BAKING SODA

- To remove crayon marks from walls, sprinkle some baking soda on a wet sponge and scrub gently on the walls. This combo can also remove other marks on the walls such as grease, pencil and some markers.
- You can use a paste of baking soda and water to remove shoe scuff marks from linoleum. Alternatively, try using a pencil eraser as well!
- Remove wine and grease stains from the carpet by sprinkling immediately with some baking soda. Table salt also works (the magic ingredient is the sodium). Add more if necessary and until the wine has been absorbed. Vacuum once everything is clean!
